Fresh Start Checking Account

We realize everyone can have a financial problem. Things happen: medical bills, marital problems, the job change that didn't work out. Then the bills pile up, checks bounce and your account is closed. When you go to another financial institution to open a checking account, you can't because you've been reported to a check clearing agency. Just because your name is "on a list" shouldn't mean that you will never be able to have a checking account.
