Learn to Teach While Earning Your Master’s Degree

The School District is looking for talented and committed individuals to teach in select schools across the District, while also enrolled in an innovative teacher preparation program in partnership with NYU Steinhardt called the NYU Steinhardt Teacher Residency.

The Residency enables students to earn graduate degrees by combining technology-enhanced coursework with full-time residency experiences in urban schools.

The 12-month program supported by both NYU Steinhardt faculty and experienced classroom teachers in their local schools. As they learn the essential skills and competencies for teaching, they gradually gain confidence and responsibilities in the classroom.

Are you, a friend, or a family member interested in pursuing a career in teaching while earning a Master’s degree? Learn more about this opportunity by attending an information session to receive a complete overview of the program.

Second application deadline extended to December 31, 2020
