

Administrative Biography

David Montoya
Assistant Principal

Mr. David Montoya, an almost Native Floridian, has been a proud Assistant Principal at Santaluces Community High School. Mr. Montoya began his college years playing football at Jacksonville University and completed his Bachelor's Degree in Secondary Education with emphasis on Biology at the University of North Florida (UNF). Mr. Montoya began his career in education as a high school science teacher in 2002. A few years into teaching he earned his Master's Degree in Educational Leadership from Lynn University, which opened open up other professional opportunities with the School District of Palm Beach County. In 2006, he brought his knowledge of curriculum and teacher development to the Department of Safe Schools as a Specialist. After working collaboratively at the District level for several years, he decided to get back to the school center where the greatest impact on student achievement occurs. In 2011, he became part of the Chief family at Santaluces Community High School.

Mr. Montoya is a family man with 3 children. He enjoys surfing, science-fiction, video games, football, and art.