Principal's Perspective

Greetings South Intensive families, staff, and community members! I hope this newsletter finds you and your loved ones well and in good health. As we end the month of February, our students and staff have been immersed in celebrating Black History month by learning about the great contributions of Black Americans and Black people around the world. With the third marking period coming to a close on March 15th, the fourth marking period is known throughout the county as the testing season. Within the last 2 months of school, students will be tested in several different subject areas including, but not limited to; Writing, Reading, Mathematics, Algebra, Geometry, Civics, and World History. For many students, especially those in middle schools and high schools, this testing season has become the norm and creates very little anxiety. However, for some students, the testing season creates an array of emotions from anxiety, to anger, to fear and even sadness. So parents, please talk with your children. See how their days are going, and let them know you are available to talk to them about anything. As always, if you are uncertain about any of the upcoming school events or tests, please don't hesitate to contact the school at 561-374-7200.

A B-GIRLS VISUAL MIXTAPE

"Whether you're a slam poet from Brooklyn, a middle-aged graffiti-artist in Europe, an adolescent breakdancer in Cuba, a 10-year old rapper in South Africa, or a young woman from Britain, storming stages the world over, hip-hop is about empowerment, finding the joy, and speaking the truth. It's about making the most of your circumstances and making something out of nothing. It's a constructive art form with aspirations for building a better, more affirmative way of life"

-The Columbus Hip-Hop Theater Project

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

South Intensive/ACCEL Academy students learned about black history through activities, projects, and lessons. Some of our students were able to go on a fieldtrip to the Kravis Center through the S*T*A*R Series. Students watched the play Paige in Full.
