SUBJECT: OIG Final Report of Management Review:
18-789 Audition Process at Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts and Bak Middle School of the Arts

Attached please find a copy of the Palm Beach County School District Office of Inspector General (OIG) Final Management Report of OIG Case 18-789 related to Dreyfoos School of the Arts and Bak Middle School of the Arts. Due to complaints the OIG has received over the years regarding the audition process at both schools, the OIG determined that a Management Review of the audition process at both schools was the most appropriate course of action.

The OIG’s Management Review concluded that:

- While the schools have certain measures in place to address the issue of conflict of interest because an adjudicator has taught the applicant, currently teaches the applicant, or knows the applicant, there is no absolute guarantee that conflicts of interest are not taking place. Additionally, there are no District procedures that require adjudicators to disclose potential or actual conflicts.
- Of the adjudicators that served in the 2019 audition process, over 50% of them were District employees.
- The OIG found no evidence to demonstrate that there were issues related to the transparency of the auditions.
- The Procedures Manual states, the “Principal’s 20% List” is allowable and an optional preference where up to 20% of the available seats may be selected by the Principal of each Choice school program prior to the lottery. The Choice and Career Options Department oversees the process.

In accordance with School Board Policy 1.092 (8)(b)(iv), on January 29, 2020, a draft of this management review was provided to Dr. Susan Atherley, Ms. Sally Rozanski, and Dr. Jeraline Johnson for a response. A written response from Dr. Johnson was received by the OIG and included in the final report.

The report is finalized and will be posted on the Inspector General’s website; https://www.palmbeachschools.org/about_us/reports_and_publications/inspector_general_reports.
Since 2012, the Office of Inspector General (OIG) has received seven complaints regarding the audition process at Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts and Bak Middle School of the Arts. The complaints contained repeated allegations including unfair advantages related to (1) the lottery process, (2) audition requirements, (3) private lessons, and (4) adjudicators. However, these complaints did not provide the OIG with sufficient information to open investigations. Due to the high number of complaints, the OIG determined that a Management Review of the audition process at both schools was the most appropriate course of action.

The Management Review focused on the following major issues:

- Adjudicators that provide private lessons to students auditioning for entry into the school;
- Adjudicators that are also District teachers;
- The transparency and equality of auditions; and
- The lottery procedures, specifically the Principal’s 20% List Preference.

The OIG’s Management Review produced the following conclusions:

- While the schools have certain measures in place to address the issue of conflict of interest because an adjudicator has taught the applicant, currently teaches the applicant, or knows the applicant, there is no absolute guarantee that conflicts of interest are not taking place. Additionally, there are no District procedures that require adjudicators to disclose potential or actual conflicts.
- Of the adjudicators that served in the 2019 audition process, over 50% of them were District employees.
- The OIG found no evidence to demonstrate that there were issues related to the transparency of the auditions.
- The Procedures Manual states, the “Principal’s 20% List” is allowable and an optional preference where up to 20% of the available seats may be selected by the Principal of each Choice school program prior to the lottery. The Choice and Career Options Department oversees the process.

Based on the above conclusions, it is recommended that the Choice and Career Options Department:

- In conjunction with the schools, consider implementing District wide training for adjudicators regarding accommodations, expectations, conflict of interest, and audition scoring.
- In conjunction with the Legal Department and the schools, implement procedures that require adjudicators to disclose conflicts.
- Ensure the Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual is clear in stating the fact that applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are not included in the lottery selection. Since the Procedures Manual has the preference listed along with the other preferences, it may be misleading to some that the applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are included in the lottery process.
INTRODUCTION & SYNOPSIS

The Palm Beach County School District offers more than 300 Choice and Career programs for Palm Beach County residents in grades K-12. The programs have a special focus, ranging from science and world languages to performing arts and computer programming. Applications to the programs must be submitted by a certain date and selection for placement is made via a lottery process. Some programs and/or schools have eligibility requirements, such as a minimum grade point average (GPA) or a successful audition. Since 2012, the Office of Inspector General (OIG) has received seven complaints regarding the audition process at Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts and Bak Middle School of the Arts. Based on the complaints received, there were reoccurring allegations regarding unfair advantages related to the lottery process, audition requirements, private lessons and adjudicators.

MANAGEMENT REVIEW

Most of the above complaints were anonymous or did not provide sufficient information in order for the OIG to open an investigation. Since the audition process appears to be the major concern of the complaints, the OIG determined that the best course of action was to conduct a Management Review of the audition process at both schools. The primary objective of the Management Review was to determine how the audition process can provide the greatest compliance, transparency, and effectiveness.

OIG JURISDICTIONAL AUTHORITY

School Board Policy 1.092 provides for the Inspector General to receive and consider complaints, and conduct, supervise, or coordinate such inquiries, investigations, or reviews, as the Inspector General deems appropriate.

BACKGROUND

A. SCHOOLS OF THE ARTS

Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts (Dreyfoos)

Dreyfoos is an all arts A rated public magnet high school with students in grades 9-12. Dr. Susan Atherley is the School Principal. Admission to the school requires a performance audition with a qualifying score, a minimum of a 2.0 GPA, and lottery selection. Art areas offered at Dreyfoos include theater, music, dance, visual arts, digital media, and communications. ²

Bak Middle School of the Arts (Bak)

Bak is an all arts A rated public magnet middle school with students in grades 6-8. Ms. Sally Rozanski is the School Principal. Admission to the school requires a performance audition with a qualifying score and lottery selection. Art areas offered at Bak include theater, music, dance, visual arts, and communications. ³

Both schools spend a great deal of time going to county schools to advertise and inform students of the current arts programs at each school and also have open houses at their respective schools. Additionally, in October the District holds a Choice Programs Open house, where both schools attend to inform attendees about the art programs offered at the schools.

B. AUDITION AND LOTTERY PROCESS

School Board Policy 5.016 Choice Schools and Programs states, “The Procedures Manual for Choice Schools and Programs is hereby incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein.” The Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual includes, in part, the following:

- To be considered for the random lottery selection process all students applying to an Arts program or full Choice Arts school where auditions are required, must meet the eligibility criteria set by each school through their individual audition process.
- A student must reside in Palm Beach County prior to completing an application or auditioning for a Choice school or program.
- All students who submit an application by the published deadline dates and meet applicable eligibility criteria will qualify for participation in the initial computerized random selection lottery.

The District currently uses Firefly Digital, Inc. (Smart Choice). The Smart Choice platform provides an online student application and lottery management system.

Qualifying applicants for both Dreyfoos and Bak schedule an audition during the audition months at the schools. The schools have different processes for scheduling an audition. Dreyfoos applicants receive a notification via email with the audition date and time. Bak holds a registration session on a Saturday during January in which applicants receive an audition date and discuss needs/requirements. Both schools commence auditions in mid-January.

Accommodations are provided to applicants with special needs documented on their IEP or 504, or applicants who have limited proficiency in the English language. However, it is the parents’ responsibility to notify the school of any plans in place.

Information regarding the schools and specific guidelines for each art area are available at each schools’ website. The guidelines provide specific audition requirements for each art area. The guidelines are meant to assist each applicant in preparing for their respective audition and provide information on any items (clothing attire, instrument, music, etc.) that are needed during the audition.

<tr>

</tr>

Bak’s passing score is 70% or higher for incoming 6th graders and 80% or higher for incoming 7th and 8th graders.

Per the Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual, the Choice and Career Options Department offers parents/guardians the ability to request an appeal if they believe their child was not provided an equitable opportunity to a Choice program. An application for an appeal must be submitted within five (5) school days of the audition date to the Director of Choice and Career Options.

The number of seats available in each Choice program at each school vary from year to year. The Choice and Career Academy Programs Booklet provides a range of available seats in each Choice program. However, the numbers provided are not guaranteed since the numbers can be impacted by “changing real estate markets, projected enrollment and/or boundary changes.”

The lottery selection process for all Choice programs is conducted in March of each year. The Choice and Career Academy Programs Booklet states “Within the lottery selection process, there are preferences to select applicants. These preferences are applied to first choice selections, only. If a program has more applicants than available seats, applicants are assigned through the lottery selection process according to approved preferences in the following order: principal’s 20% list, employee, military, priority SAC, sibling and strand.” The Choice Schools and Programs

4 Individualized Education Plan.
5 A plan developed to ensure a child who has a disability identified under the law and is attending an elementary or secondary educational institution receives accommodations that will ensure their academic success and access to the learning environment.
Procedures Manual defines “Priority SAC” as first choice applicants who belong to a District-approved priority group or population, which includes neighborhood designated SAC areas for six schools and “Strand” as first choice applicants who have participated in and completed a program in the same preparatory theme at the lower grade levels, meaning at least grades 7 and 8 in middle school or at least grades 4 and 5 in elementary school.

MANAGEMENT REVIEW METHODOLOGY

The primary objective of the Management Review was to determine how the audition process can provide the greatest compliance, transparency, and effectiveness.

During the course of the review, the OIG obtained input from the following:

- Director of Choice and Career Options Department
- Choice Programs Manager of Choice and Career Options Department
- Dreyfoos and Bak Principals
- Dreyfoos and Bak Magnet Coordinators

The OIG reviewed documents, including but not limited to, applicable District Policies, art program guidelines, scoring documents, and payroll records.

This review was conducted in compliance with the Quality Standards for Inspections, Evaluations, and Reviews, Principles and Standards for Offices of Inspector General, promulgated by the Association of Inspectors General.
AUDITION PROCESS ISSUES

The OIG reviewed the overall audition process to obtain a better understanding of the procedures in place. As mentioned, some of the complaints the OIG received in the past did not include sufficient information. However, the major issues raised in the complaints are related to the following:

1. Adjudicators that provide private lessons
2. Adjudicators that are district teachers
3. Transparency and equality of auditions
4. Lottery procedures

ISSUES/CONCERNS

ISSUE #1 - ADJUDICATORS THAT PROVIDE PRIVATE LESSONS

Some of the complaints the OIG received were related to the issue of conflict of interest with the adjudicators. Specifically, it was alleged that there may be adjudicators who provide private lessons to students auditioning or that adjudicators work for a company that offers preparatory services for the various arts areas.

School Board Policy 3.02 (5)(d)(iii) Code of Ethics states that tutoring students contrary to any applicable School Board Policy or collective bargaining agreement is considered unethical conduct.

Section L of the Collective Bargaining Agreement between The School Board of Palm Beach County, Florida and The Palm Beach County Classroom Teachers Association (July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2020) states that cases where individual tutoring is recommended and a fee is to be assessed for such services. The agreement provides the following conditions: a) an employee shall not tutor any student enrolled in his/her classes, b) tutoring for which an employee receives a fee shall not be conducted on school facilities or on school time, and c) employees, who accept outside tutoring engagements must make their own arrangements with the parents for the fee to be assessed.

While the Bargaining Agreement precludes employees from tutoring their own students, it does not preclude them from providing private lessons or working with a company that provides preparatory classes.

Additionally, Opinion CEO 12-23 from The Florida Commission on Ethics dated December 5, 2012, related to teachers and coaches secondarily employed to tutor/instruct students and offering additional programs to students opined that a prohibited conflict of interest does not exist “provided that none of the students tutored/instructed or offered programs is a student in/on the teacher’s or coach’s class, group instruction, sports tryouts, or sports team, at the time of the tutoring/instruction to offer.”
Based on the OIG’ review, there are measures put in place by both schools to avoid adjudicators from adjudicating applicants they have tutored in some capacity. These measures are:

- Dreyfoos currently meets with adjudicators to review the process and has all adjudicators sign the form “Audition Adjudicator Policies & Procedures”. The form includes various policies or procedures. Some of the points in the form include language such as “I understand that the Dreyfoos audition process is anonymous and that I may not ask an applicant his/her name or middle school.” and “I understand that it is my responsibility to recuse myself from the adjudication process if I privately teach or have any other personal relationship with the applicant that would prohibit my objective evaluation of him/her, and I understand the procedure for recusing myself from the evaluation of an applicant as it has been explained to me.”

- Bak currently does not have the same form, but adjudicators meet with Department Leaders to discuss expectations, scoring, and recusals prior to auditions. Additionally, the Magnet Coordinator ensures not to place an adjudicator who works at an elementary school with any applicants from that same school.

The OIG searched the Division of Corporations, the State of Florida’s official business entity index and commercial activity website (Sunbiz.org), for all the adjudicators who participated in the 2019 auditions at both schools to determine if any record existed of the adjudicator’s named as an officer in a business that would be related to any art programs. The search revealed that 5% of the adjudicators have a record on Sunbiz.org; five adjudicator names (three District employees, one Artist in Residence, and two consultants) appeared on businesses related to some form of art area (music, dance, choir, art). It should be noted that during the search, the OIG determined two of the names in question have a family member that also adjudicated.

This analysis would not include adjudicators that offer private lessons and are not incorporated or adjudicators that may work at an establishment that provides preparatory classes.

CONCLUSION - ISSUE #1

While the schools have certain measures in place to avoid a conflict of interest where an adjudicator either has taught the applicant, currently teaches the applicant, or knows the applicant, there is no guarantee that conflicts of interest are not taking place and there is no District procedure that requires adjudicators to disclose such information. Throughout the County, there are various orchestras, choir groups, exhibitions that make up the arts community and it is possible that at some point an adjudicator may have crossed paths with an applicant.

The OIG recommends the Choice and Career Options Department, in conjunction with the Legal Department and the schools, implement procedures that require adjudicators to disclose conflicts; such as if they own a business, work at an establishment or provide private lessons in the arts field. Additionally, along with the disclosure, adjudicators should be held accountable if the information is not disclosed or if they do not recuse themselves when applicable.
ISSUE #2 - ADJUDICATORS THAT ARE DISTRICT TEACHERS

The second issue raised in the complaints is that District teachers being eligible to adjudicate may cause a conflict of interest.

An adjudicator is a paid District employee who adjudicates the applicants during the audition process at the schools. District payroll records indicate that adjudicators are paid $25 an hour. The District does not have a job description for adjudicators because the functions and duties are considered temporary. According to the Choice and Career Options Department Director, the qualifications for adjudicators at both schools are as follows:

Dreyfoos: educators with a degree in an arts field and experience in the arts field for which they judge.

To apply for an adjudicator position, the same application process is used as any other District job. When a current District employee applies for an adjudicator position, the school works with the Human Resources and Payroll Department to assign the adjudicator job to the selected employee. Verification of employee background is completed through the applicant’s regular employment and therefore it is not necessary to complete additional verification. Background verifications for Artists in Residence is also completed when they are initially hired; therefore, it is not necessary for the school to do additional verification. External adjudicators must complete a background verification and complete the required consultant forms prior to start dates.

Currently, there are no District procedures or School Board Policies that prohibit a District employee from serving as an adjudicator.

Dreyfoos utilizes three adjudicators and Bak utilizes two adjudicators per audition. The schools are required to provide the Choice and Career Options Department with a form reflecting potential adjudicators in each program. During the auditions that took place in January and February 2019, Dreyfoos utilized 58 adjudicators and Bak utilized 37 adjudicators.

During OIG meetings with staff at both schools, it was expressed by Dreyfoos staff that although there are adjudicators that are District employees, there is a good balance of external and internal adjudicators. Bak’s staff said most of their adjudicators are District employees or Artists in Residence.
The OIG reviewed the list of adjudicators at both schools to determine the percentage of District employees, Artists in Residence, and external that serve as adjudicators. The review revealed the following:

CONCLUSION - ISSUE #2

The OIG concluded that of the adjudicators that served in the 2019 audition process, over 50% of them are District employees. However, there are no District procedures or School Board Policies that prohibit a District employee from serving as an adjudicator. While there may be a greater chance that adjudicators that are District teachers may know an applicant, there are also measures in place to avoid this (See Issue #1). By implementing the recommendations in Issue #1, procedures and policies will exist that promote accountability and thereby alleviate the concern of District teachers being eligible to adjudicate.

ISSUE #3 – TRANSPARENCY AND EQUALITY OF AUDITIONS

The third issue raised in the complaints is regarding adjudicators providing confidential information about the audition process to applicants, and applicants potentially receiving a greater advantage after receiving private lessons or preparatory classes.

Dreyfoos and Bak have procedures in place to ensure transparent and equitable auditions. Some of the procedures in place are: 1) applicants are given a unique identifier instead of using the applicants’ names and 2) audition guidelines and requirements for each art area are issued by each school on each respective school website (Exhibit 1 and 2).

Both schools use Microsoft Excel to assign each eligible applicant a unique identifier. The purpose of the identifier is to maintain the applicants’ anonymity, thereby reducing the chances of adjudicators or staff having information ahead of time regarding who is auditioning.
During the OIG’s meetings with staff at both schools, it was said by staff at both schools that the score sheets used during auditions by the adjudicators, include the same information used on the published guidelines. The OIG reviewed the template score sheets used in 2019 by both schools and determined that the information used to score reflects the same information listed on the guidelines.

Neither schools require private lessons in order to audition or successfully pass an audition. The OIG reviewed guidelines for both schools and did not find any information regarding the requirement of private lessons or preparatory classes. Bak’s guidelines state, “There are many people at your child’s current school who can guide and assist them as they prepare for their auditions. Talk to your art and music teachers, your media specialist, your guidance counselor, and your language arts teacher.”

During the OIG’s review of applicant score sheets, it was noted that score sheets for music programs at Dreyfoos include a section where the applicant is interviewed and scored based on motivation. Some of the interview questions are related to the applicant’s practice habits, festival participation, lessons, awards, and eagerness to learn and try new concepts. Whether applicants receive private lessons does not affect the score. Bak’s score sheets do not indicate an interview process.

Based on the information the OIG reviewed, it does not appear that an adjudicator would have confidential information to provide an applicant since the guidelines are published by each school for applicants to review and prepare accordingly. As discussed, the score sheets reflected the same information listed on the guidelines.

Taking lessons or seeking assistance in order to prepare for auditions is not prohibited and may be common. However, the schools do not require private lessons in order to audition or successfully pass an audition. The District does not dictate how an applicant prepares for auditions; instead, the guidelines and requirements for each art area are available to all in order to prepare accordingly.

The OIG recommends the Choice and Career Options Department review the Dreyfoos score sheets that include interview questions and consider removing questions regarding private lessons as it may be perceived that receiving private lessons may affect an applicant’s score.

ISSUE #4 - LOTTERY PROCEDURES

The fourth issue raised in the complaints is regarding lottery procedures not followed with the “Principal’s 20% list” preference. Specifically, it was alleged Principals selected students of their choice who may not have qualified.

As discussed in the Choice and Career Academy Programs Booklet and the Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual, all students who submit an application by the published deadline dates and meet applicable eligibility criteria will qualify for participation in the computerized lottery. As part of the lottery, applicants are eligible for various preferences.
One preference is the “Principal’s 20% list”. The Procedures Manual defines this preference as optional where up to 20% of the available seats may be selected by the Principal of each Choice school program prior to the lottery. The Procedures Manual explains that Principals must submit their criteria for selection of the students in the 20% list to the Director of Choice and Career Options prior to the lottery for students that selected that particular program as their first choice. As confirmed by the Director of Choice and Career Options Dr. Jeraline Johnson, the applicants on the Principal’s 20% list are not included in the lottery, thereby receive assignment to the respective school.

During the OIG meetings with staff at both schools, Dreyfoos confirmed that the preference is at times utilized for applicants with perfect scores or based on program needs. Bak confirmed that the preference is used based on need for certain programs. Some of the examples provided by both schools were based on the needs for specific musical instruments (i.e. tuba, cello). Additionally, the Choice and Career Options Department reviews the criteria to ensure equality.

Records provided by the Choice and Career Options Department and both schools reflect that Bak did not select any applicants for the Principal’s 20% list. Dreyfoos selected applicants that passed the audition for the Principal’s 20% as follows: thirteen (13) in Visual Arts and nine (9) in Music (piano and vocal). The OIG reviewed the criteria submitted by Dreyfoos and determined it was related to top qualifying scores and applicants whose work stood out.

CONCLUSION - ISSUE #4

Per the Procedures Manual, the “Principal’s 20% List” is allowable and an optional preference where up to 20% of the available seats may be selected by the Principal of each Choice school program prior to the lottery. Additionally, the Choice and Career Options Department oversees the process.

The OIG recommends that the Choice and Career Options Department ensure the Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual is clear in stating the fact that applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are not included in the lottery selection. Since the Procedures Manual has the preference listed along with the other preferences, it may be misleading to some that the applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are included in the lottery process.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The OIG recommends that the Choice and Career Options Department, in conjunction with the schools, consider implementing District wide training for adjudicators regarding accommodations, expectations, conflict of interest, and audition scoring to ensure fair and equitable audition process and implementing District wide applicable forms.

Both schools have adopted various processes and procedures that appear to work well for their schools. While the schools do need some autonomy, the audition process may improve if certain procedures are centralized.
AFFECTED PARTY NOTICE

In accordance with School Board Policy 1.092 (8)(b)(iv), on January 29, 2020, Dr. Susan Atherley, Ms. Sally Rozanski, and Dr. Jeraline Johnson were provided a draft of the management review and provided with an opportunity to submit a written response. On February 3, 2020, the OIG received a response from Dr. Johnson (Exhibit 3). Dr. Johnson’s response did not dispute the findings of the management review and provided action items to the OIG’s recommendations. Dr. Atherley and Ms. Rozanski did not provide responses.

Mission Statement

The Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts is committed to providing a world-class arts and academic education with excellence and equity to empower each student to reach their highest potential. We are committed to allow our students to find their own identity, while remaining part of a diverse community. We are also committed to attracting and retaining a highly qualified and professional staff who work each day to foster the knowledge, innovation, creativity, and ethical behavior within our students that will be required for responsible citizenship and a productive career.

The School Year

Seven classes are offered on a modified block schedule with three classes meeting every other day for 100 minutes, and one class meeting every day for 50 minutes. All underclass students are required to take seven classes or the equivalent. It is mandatory that seniors take a minimum of six classes or the equivalent. All students are required to take at least two year-long courses in their art area every year.

The school operates 36 weeks per year and is divided into four nine-week quarters. Semester grades, given twice a year, earn one half credit for every course passed with a “D” or above.

The semester grade is determined by averaging the two nine week grades (80%) and the semester exam (20%).

Admission Requirements For School Year 2019-2020

You must be a resident of Palm Beach County at the time of application and be entering 9th or 10th grade. We accept students entering 11th and 12th grades; however, eligibility requirements are more competitive.

You must participate in an audition process and earn a qualifying score. This process varies from program to program. The section entitled "Audition Guidelines" describes in detail what you must prepare in advance of your audition and what you will do during the audition.

Occasionally these scores may need to be adjusted by art area depending on the number of available seats and score distribution of art area applicants. If such an adjustment occurs, qualifying scores will not increase.

Accommodations to the audition process are permissible for students with special needs documented in an active IEP or 504 plan.

Students who have limited proficiency in the English language are encouraged to audition in their native language. Students identified as LEP will be provided language facilitators for their auditions.

A parent/guardian must notify the Dreyfoos School of the Arts Magnet Office immediately following the submission of the application if the child has a special need that requires accommodations for their audition. A copy of the child’s current IEP or 504 Plan (public school students) or medical evaluation (private school students) must be provided to the school immediately following submission of the application in order to ensure audition accommodations.

Applicants who qualify in the audition process must also have a 2.0 grade point average at the time of assignment. Students who do not meet the above grade point criteria will not be accepted to the Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts regardless of a qualifying audition score. Private School Students will require to submit an updated transcript at the time of Audition.

The names of all qualifying students will be submitted to the Department of Choice and Career Options for a random lottery selection process. You are urged to become familiar with the Choice Department Procedural Manual which can be accessed online at www.palmbeachschools.org/ChoicePrograms.

If there are more qualified students than available spaces in a program, the School District of Palm Beach County will make the final selection through a random computer lottery system. Students not initially selected will be placed in a wait pool for all choice programs where they were deemed eligible.

DECEMBER 7, 2018

Applications are available online at www.palmbeachschoools.org/choiceprograms and www.mypbchoiceapp.com. Online application submission sends an immediate confirmation of receipt by email. Please retain all login information for future use in the Application Management system. If a computer is unavailable at home, please visit the local library or the child’s school. Refer to the Choice Programs Booklet for further details.

If the student has an IEP or a 504 Plan, please mail or email it to the Dreyfoos Magnet Office immediately following submission of the application, and no later than January 11, 2019.

Step Two: Audition

Approved applicants will be notified via e-mail of the audition procedures and/or time/date of student audition. Only students who have a verified application on file with the Department of Choice and Career Options will be assigned an audition. If audition notification is not received by January 11, 2019, please contact the Dreyfoos Magnet Office.

Auditions will begin the week of January 14, 2019 and will continue through mid-February, 2019. Applicants must audition on the date they are assigned. Student’s audition dates can only be re-scheduled in the case of a documentated family emergency or if the assigned date conflicts with a day of religious observance. Dreyfoos defines family emergency as the death of an immediate family member of the student.

If a student becomes ill on the date of their scheduled audition, he/she must provide the school proof of illness from that date from a doctor within (before or after) three (3) business days of the date of the student’s scheduled audition. Once Dreyfoos has verified the proof of illness, the student will be re-scheduled only if there are more audition dates available. Students who have not auditioned before the scheduled lottery will not be eligible for the initial lottery selection process. If a student auditions and qualifies after the initial lottery process, acceptance will be based on space availability. If no spaces are available, the student will be placed in a wait pool.
Step Three. Prepare.

Review the audition guidelines in this brochure and prepare accordingly for the audition. Guidelines are included in this brochure.

Guidelines are also available from the Dreyfoos Magnet Office in Spanish and Haitian-Creole. Each applicant is invited and encouraged to audition in his/her native language. Notify the Dreyfoos Magnet Office by January 11, 2019 should an applicant choose to take advantage of this opportunity.

Step Four. Attend.

Plan to arrive 30 minutes early to accommodate the check-in process. Please do not arrive before 4:00 pm. The audition process will require that applicants be present and ready to perform at any point during the four hour audition time block. Remember to bring anything needed for the audition, (note cards, instrument, music, etc.)

Step Five. Wait.

The Palm Beach County School District Department of Choice and Career Options establishes a date of notification for the release of placement results for all of the Magnet and Choice Programs. Expect to receive the lottery results on March 29, 2019. There will be no exceptions to the date of notification established by the School District. Dreyfoos School of the Arts will provide audition results after a written request has been filed with the Magnet Office.

A Note Regarding Appeals

Dreyfoos School of the Arts does not grant appeals. Appeals may be requested through the Director of Choice and Career Options by filing a Request for Appeal (Form 2418).
Frequently Asked Questions

Do you offer tours of the campus for prospective students and their families?
Dreyfoos does not offer tours of the school. We do encourage you to visit one of our Prospective Student Open Houses. Interested parents and students will have an opportunity to visit the entire campus and meet with art area instructors and some academic instructors.

Who can apply?
Students may apply to the Alexander W. Dreyfoos School of the Arts from the 8th grade through the 11th grade for admission the following year. Applicants must be legal full-time residents of Palm Beach County at the time of application. Applicants must have a minimum 2.0 unweighted grade point average.

What if my family moves to Palm Beach County after the application deadline in December?
Families/students who move to Palm Beach County after the application deadline should contact the Department of Choice and Career Options at the Palm Beach County School District about the late application process and the possibility of alternate audition opportunities. Only students who apply with on-time applications will be auditioned during the January-February audition times.

The district application asks me to rank my selection of magnet and/or choice programs. Will this affect my chances of qualifying for Dreyfoos?
No, the information you provide on your application is not provided to Dreyfoos adjudicators. If you should qualify for Dreyfoos and another magnet or choice program, you will be considered for both programs. However, students are obligated to accept their first choice program, if selected, or they must return to their home school. Read the Choice Program Application carefully for complete information.

Can I audition for more than one art area?
You are permitted to audition in up to two programs; however, it is not necessary. We encourage you to audition only for programs in which you have a strong interest.

What if I get sick on my audition date?
If a student becomes ill and is unable to audition on the scheduled date, the school must be notified with written proof of illness from a doctor within three (3) school days of the date of the student's audition. The audition will then be rescheduled by the school if there are more audition dates available.

Students who have not auditioned before the scheduled March lottery will not be eligible for the initial lottery selection process.

Applicants will receive notification on March 29, 2019 regarding the status of student’s acceptance or eligible status. Some students will be placed in an applicant wait pool when there are more eligible applicants than available seats. Students will be selected on a random basis as openings occur.

An Application for Appeal of Choice Program Eligibility (Form #PBSD 2418) must be submitted to the Choice and Career Options Director within 5 school days from the date of the audition. The appeals process is governed by Policy 5.016 and is described in the District’s Procedures Manual for Choice Programs. Theatre Audition

Bak MSOA Theatre students will study and explore all aspects of the theatre process. Through classroom study and studio work, students will be introduced to the areas of acting and musical theatre performance; stagecraft, costuming, technical theatre; and stage management. Additionally, they will learn the principles of theatre production, theatre history, playwriting, and audience appreciation.

Theatre Audition

Think of this audition session as a theatre workshop: all that is needed are students that are interested and willing to demonstrate their abilities through the workshop activities. Parents and students should be aware that the entire process may take up to two and a half hours, including the orientation to the audition, the acting exercise, and the cold reading or song assessment.

Preparation for the Theatre Audition

There is no specific preparation for the Theatre Audition. Students must come dressed prepared to move freely: flat-sole closed-toed shoes, loose-fitting clothing such as t-shirts, gym shorts, modest or conservative dancewear, yoga or exercise clothing is appropriate. No jeans or jewelry.

At the Audition Students will participate in the following:

1. Acting Exercise: Students will be matched up with one or two other students for this audition assignment. Each student is judged on his/her own work. Students will have 10 minutes to create a believable scene based on the short original script provided. The script should be memorized (but memorization will not be scored.) A stage manager will be present at all times to “prompt” the young actors whenever they need a line. The scenes will be presented and a moderator will give an adjustment, coaching, or redirection for each scene and may side-coach during the second presentation.

2. Cold Reading OR Song

OPTION A – COLD READING. Students will be given a brief script and will be asked to read it making character choices. Students will be evaluated based on their ability to express a character vocally and physically through spoken word in a way that matches what the actor can learn from the script.

-OR-

OPTION B – SONG: Students will be taught approximately 16 bars (less than one minute) of a Broadway musical style song. Students will be evaluated based on their ability to express a character vocally and physically through song in a way that matches what the actor can learn from the song.

Evaluation of Students for the Theatre Audition

We are assessing each child on his/her potential as a theatre student. We apply the audition criteria to the whole child rather than to simply past training/experience or presentational skills. The student's goal is to listen, follow directions, and freely express his/her creativity as a theatre student.

Students will be evaluated on the criteria as listed below:

Voice and Movement (Acting Exercise and Cold Reading or Song)-Demonstrates an ability to express a character vocally and physically in a way that matches what the actor can learn from the script or song.

Ensemble-Demonstrates teamwork through an ability and willingness to collaborate, listen, and react to create a believable scene together.

Responsiveness to Coaching-Demonstrates an ability to take direction and use it to change, correct, or enhance the creation of a believable character/scene on stage.

Creativity/Theatrical Awareness-Demonstrates an ability to have ideas, explore possibilities, make discoveries, and make effective choices to create character, place, and situation.
Visual Arts Audition

Bak MSOA Visual Arts Department classes include ceramics, drawing, painting, photography, sculpture, and printmaking.

PLEASE NOTE: Students should not bring any artwork or supplies with them the day of their audition.

All artwork at the audition will be created with soft drawing pencil and vinyl eraser on white drawing paper. The sculpture portion will be created with a poster board type of paper, scissors, and clear tape. The audition is scheduled for three hours.

1. Creative Exercise: Students will be given a series of unfinished drawings and illustration prompts and asked to complete the drawings. Emphasis will be placed on the creative process and final design choices made by the student. Students will be assessed on originality, creative vision, and personal expression. The emphasis of this exercise is to measure creativity as opposed to observational skill and technique.

2. Still Life Drawing: Students will participate in an art class where they will be given a group of objects prearranged in a still life. Students will then complete a 2-D observational drawing of the still life. Applicants are judged on their ability to create an accurate likeness of the still life provided. This would include their understanding of proportion, placement (correct spatial relationships between objects), compositional layout on the page, quality of line and/or mark-making, and rendering to create volume. We expect students to have a basic understanding of values and shading, but not to complete the drawing with full shaded rendering. This would include a good range of values (at least six) and the ability to transition between them. Students will have at least 45 minutes to complete the work. The assessment of the drawing will include the student's ability to sustain the work for the amount of time given, the accuracy of their image, and completeness of the work.

3. Sculpture Exercise: Students will participate in an art class where they will be given a poster board type of paper, scissors, and clear tape. They will be asked to make a sculpture from a given prompt. Students will be allowed to cut, bend, fold, roll, or use any type of construction method they choose to complete their sculpture. Student's artwork will be judged on their ability to create a 3-D object out of a flat material, construction techniques, stability, and craftsmanship.

Hi Veronica,

I thought I had sent this to you. My apologies. It was sitting in my drafts. Here you go. I took another look at it today and made just a small little change. One statement was showing as a grammar error.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions or recommendations. Did you ever get any recommendations from the schools based on our last conversation?

Final OIG Responses - Bak and Dreyfoos Audition_Ajudicator.docx
14K
Subject: Response for Draft Report for OIG Case No. 18-789 - Management Review of the Audition Process at Alexander W. Dreyfoos of the Arts and Bak Middle School of the Arts

OIG Recommendation: In conjunction with the schools, consider implementing District wide training for adjudicators regarding accommodations, expectations, conflict of interest, and audition scoring.

Response: Audition Adjudicators will be required to attend a district-wide training session where they will be informed of procedures including; but not limited to, recusing themselves if they have a professional or personal relationship with the applicant. Attendance at the training session will be mandatory. Participants will be required to sign an acknowledgement of the adjudicator procedures. A copy of the signed form will be kept at the school site.

OIG Recommendation: In conjunction with the Legal Department and the schools, implement procedures that require adjudicators to disclose conflicts.

Response: Upon completion of the training, adjudicators will be required to sign and date a document that they have been informed that they need to disclose or recuse themselves for any conflict of interest with an applicant. (sample attached hereto)

OIG Recommendation: Ensure the Choice Schools and Programs Procedures Manual is clear in stating the fact that applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are not included in the lottery selection. Since the Procedures Manual has the preference listed along with the other preferences, it may be misleading to some that the applicants selected for the “Principal’s 20% List” are included in the lottery process.

Response: The 2021-2022 Choice booklet will include clarifying statements to explain the process of assignment for applicants with preferences, specifically, the Principal’s 20% List. We will make it clear that while optional by the school principal, the 20% takes place prior to the lottery unlike the other preferences.
OIG Recommendation: Review the Dreyfoos score sheets that include interview questions and consider removing questions regarding private lessons as it may be perceived that receiving private lessons may affect an applicant's score.

Response: The Department of Choice and Career Options will assure that the topic of "questions regarding private lessons" will be included in the Adjudicator training. Additionally, staff will work with the schools to remove questions that pertain to the topic of private lessons.
