Building Non-Academic Skills

How do you build students’ skills outside of academic subject areas? Include descriptions of:

- Address social/emotional needs;
- Foster a growth mindset;
- Teach resilience and persistence;
- Promote healthy habits;
- Promote positive behavior;
- Develop students organizational skills;
- Build strong study habits;

OMS also provides aftercare to our student population, Monday through Thursday, where students are provided with tutoring and sport participation opportunities. The school connects students to agencies who have cooperative agreements to meet with students on our campus to help with social and emotional needs (Youth Services Bureau (YSB), Children’s Home Society (CHS), Caregiving Youth, and other agencies). Administration and guidance counselors loop with each grade level to build positive relationships with students and families.

SBT/MTSS Implementation

Describe your implementation of a tiered model of support (SBT/MTSS):

- Identify students for tiered support;
- Determine supports needed;
- Implement support; and
- Track students’ progress.
1. SBT/MTSS Implementation

Students are identify based upon teachers' recommendations. Referrals as submitted on active cases. Student data is evaluated and discussed using EDW reports, teacher anecdotes, school guidance counselors' observations, discipline referrals and attendance reports. Once students are identified, a team of educators, consisting of the Assistant Principal, Guidance counselor, and a General Education teacher determine appropriate interventions and placement at higher or lower tiers of intervention. Then, the team determines the support that is needed for the student academic, behavioral, and/or social-emotional needs. School-Based Team (SBT) members then implement support to students at risk of failing and provide targeted instruction to help students to experience learning gains. The levels of support are Tier 1, 2 and 3. In Tier 1, students receive general education classroom instruction, where students are taught using instruction methods that research has shown to be effective. Students may work in small groups in the classroom as the teacher uses differentiated to target the different skill levels and learning styles. Tier 2 is a small group intervention utilized when students are not making adequate progress in Tier 1. Students in Tier 2 receive lessons in small group two or three times a week, in addition to regular, whole-group classroom instruction. Skill assessments are conducted weekly or every other week to monitor the students' progress. The school updates parents and recommends the parent work on certain skills at home with the child who is in Tier 2. Tier 3 includes intensive interventions for students not making adequate progress in Tier 2. These students receive more intensive instruction in specific skills. Parents receive progress updates. Student participate part of the day in the general education classroom. Students also break off into small groups to receive targeted lessons while the rest of the class is in enrichment or elective classes. If the student does not make adequate progress in Tier 3, the student is referred for an evaluation for special education services. All students' progress is tracked using a validated measurement tools such as: Weekly assessments, Achieve 3000, Imagine Learning, Reading+, standard assessments, diagnostics and SRI, Palm Beach Performance assessment, FSQ's and USA's. Parents are informed of the progress of the student by the teacher and the SBT.

Provision of a Well-Rounded Education

How do you ensure all students are provided with a well-rounded education including enrichment opportunities? Describe:

- The process used to determine core instructional needs (data).
- How the school ensures instruction is aligned to standards.
- Courses/electives that are not considered core-content.
- Courses/electives that are focused on job skills.
- Opportunities to extend learning time.
- How the school connects classroom learning to real world applications
- How extra curricular opportunities enrich the students’ education.

*The term “well-rounded education” means courses, activities, and programming in subjects such as English, reading or language arts, writing, science, technology, engineering, mathematics, foreign languages, civics and government, economics, arts, history, geography, computer science, music, career and technical education, health, physical education, and any other subject, as determined by the State or local educational agency, with the purpose of providing all students access to an enriched curriculum and educational experience. [ESSA, section 8101 (52)].

These conversations and learning opportunities promote dialogue that can dispel misunderstandings and promote opportunities for growth in instructional practice, curriculum, and the standards. Teacher mentoring and in-house and district training are afforded to teachers and staff. Our Math and Reading Coaches evaluate the effectiveness of Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) to ensure that teachers utilize data to teach and to remediate or enrich their instruction. Single School Culture Coordinators (SSCCs) work with specialists to give the faculty meaningful reading and writing curriculum development. In our Professional Development we will include effective PLC’s, Writing and Scoring Workshops, book studies, EDW and Performance Matter Trainings, Reading +, Imagine Learning and Achieve 3000 students scores, i-ready, i-XL, and ESOL Strategies. Specialists from the district provide training on writing and scoring based on the New Florida Standards. Teachers attend AVID and Technology Conferences. The Department of Multicultural train teachers on how to deliver effective instruction to English Language Learners.

OCMS Recruits by word of mouth, SDPBC website advertisement, Multicultural Department (Spain and Puerto Rico) and Job Fair. Administrators also focus on growing their own from within by offering Intern Teachers, Interim Teachers, Substitutes, and Academic Tutors opportunities for teachers to work on special assignments. Teacher who are new to OCMS meet bi-monthly with Principal/administrators to discuss school related matters. During these meetings, new teachers have the opportunity to ask questions, discuss solutions and pedagogical best practices. Furthermore, new teachers are mentored through the Educator Support Program (ESP) Model set by SDPBC. New teachers are assigned a Mentoring/Peer Teacher and a Department Chair in their discipline to consult, collaborate, encourage, and share best practices in their respective fields. Mentors and coaches support teachers by modeling teaching strategies and classroom management strategies. New teachers observe other teachers in action, and record their own teaching so that they can then evaluate their teaching style and effectiveness. In order to retain effective teachers, content area teacher meet as a team to collaborate and develop lesson plans with team leaders, department chairs, and coaches. All teachers participate in Professional Development opportunities offered on an ongoing basis by SDPBC, OCMS, and other organizations, in-county, out-of-county, and out-of-state. Opportunities for supplemental part-time pay, such as tutoring, are offered to all teachers of core subjects before and after school, and on Saturdays. OCMS enforces three share values, which are RESPECT, COMMUNITY and RELATIONSHIPS.
