SUBJECT: FY19 SCHOOL DISTRICT OF PALM BEACH COUNTY (DISTRICT) HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES
COLLEGE MATRICULATION SUMMARY

The District has received the FY19 high school graduates' college matriculation data from the National Student Clearinghouse (NSC).¹ The Department of Research and Evaluation (DRE) has performed a preliminary analysis of college enrollment for students who graduated from the District between FY15 and FY19², persistence rate³ for students who graduated from the District between FY14 and FY18, and degree completion for students who graduated between FY12 and FY15. This report informs our progress toward the District Strategic Plan's Long Term Outcome of "Preparing Students for Postsecondary Success".

College enrollment is the first step of postsecondary education. The present document provides an analysis of college enrollment, including the District graduates' college enrollment by year, institution type, and student demographics. To gain an understanding of middle and high school student achievement impact on the college enrollment, the relationships with 8th Grade FSA achievement and high school SAT scores are also examined. This report also details enrollment at the most popular postsecondary institutions for the District high school graduates, college persistence, and degree completion rates.

The Appendix provides a summary of college enrollment, persistency rate and degree completion by high school along with and comparisons to the District overall and national benchmarks.

¹ Data summarized in this report are based on the cohorts reported by the National Student Clearinghouse and may differ from the graduate counts from the Florida Department of Education.

² Graduates are defined as end of year Grade 12 students who earned a standard diploma and are in the state four-year federal cohort (which does not include special diplomas or GEDs).

³ Persistence rate is the percentage of students who return to college at any institution for their second year.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

The findings are summarized according to the following sections:

- General Enrollment Trends FY15 through FY19
- Enrollment by Student Demographics
- College Choice
- Student Achievement and College Enrollment
- Persistence: FY14 to FY18 Cohorts
- Degree Completion
- Summaries by High School Attended

General Enrollment Trends FY15 Through FY19

- 64% of District graduates enrolled in a postsecondary institution in the fall after graduation, which is the same as the prior year, FY18, and lower than enrollments of the graduates from FY15 to FY17 (Table 1).⁴
- From FY12 to FY18, the percent of District graduates attending a postsecondary institution (64% - 68%) was lower than the enrollment rates of national high school graduates (67 - 70%; Table 1).⁵

Table 1. Number and percent of District graduates enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the fall after graduation

Year	Number of District Graduates	Number of Graduates Enrolled in College	Percent of Graduates Enrolled in College	National School ⁶
FY19	13,206	8,470	64%	-
FY18	12,811	8,251	64%	69%
FY17	11,173	7,549	68%	67%
FY16	11,128	7,271	65%	70%
FY15	1,0808	7,324	68%	69%

Note: The college enrollment may be impacted by National Clearing House institution coverage rate for the year or students' enrollment record blocked rate. Number of District graduates reported is based on the cohort identified by the National Student Clearinghouse.

- Nearly two-thirds of students enrolled in a postsecondary institution during the fall following high school graduation. This proportion increased slightly by the end of the first year following high school graduation.

⁴ The overall enrollment changes may be impacted by colleges and universities that have withdrawn from the National Clearinghouse or some students' enrollment and/or degree records are blocked at the students' request.

⁵ Reported by the U.S Bureau of Labor Statistics: <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/hsgec.nr0.htm>.

⁶ "National School" refers to national high school graduates between age 16 to 24 as reported by the U.S Department of Labor: <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/hsgec.nr0.htm>.

- Over years, most students attended college enrolled in a public college or university (Table 3), an in-state institution (Table 4), or a four-year college (Table 5).⁹

⁸ Fall is defined as anytime during the calendar year of graduation (e.g., May to December); the second calendar year is the May to next year July; the third calendar year is August to next July, etc.

⁹ The National Student Clearinghouse has classified Palm Beach State College (formerly Palm Beach Community College) as a four-year institution for all years in this analysis.

Table 5. Number and percent of District graduates enrolled in two and four-year postsecondary institutions in the fall after graduation

Year	Number of District Graduates	Number Enrolled in a Two-Year College	Percent Enrolled in a Two-Year College	Number Enrolled in a Four-Year College	Percent Enrolled in a Four-Year College

Enrollment by Student Demographics

- More Female graduates (69%-72%) were enrolled in a postsecondary institution than Male graduates (59% - 63%; Table 6).
- Fewer Black (59% - 63%) and Hispanic (58% - 62%) graduates were enrolled in a postsecondary institution than White graduates (72% - 74%) (Table 6). The gap between White and Black in FY19 (14 percentage points) was larger than in FY18 (11 percentage points), while the gap between White and Hispanic for FY19 (15 percentage points) was similar to FY18 (14 percentage points).

College Choice

- For all years, Palm Beach State College had been the most common college choice for District graduates (Table 7).

Student Achievement and College Enrollment

- More than 72% of District graduates with SAT Reading or Math score above 500 enrolled in a postsecondary institution (Tables 8 and 9). Enrollment rates decreased following FY17 for lower scoring students; this may be an artifact due to the change to the New SAT.¹⁰

* Note: For FY17, FY18 and FY19, the SAT score is the New SAT score, the summary is based on the students who took SAT in High School.

¹⁰ Since 2016, College Board administrated the New SAT. The New SAT focuses on the knowledge, skills, and understanding of student instead of the old SAT emphasized the general reasoning aptitude of test-takers. Typically, it is easier to get a higher score on the new SAT than it was on the old SAT.

- For those District graduates who had an FSA ELA/FCAT Reading Level 4 or 5 in their eighth grade year, 74% - 84% entered college. Graduates who had FSA ELA/FCAT Reading Level 1 in their eighth grade year, 44% - 50% of these graduates enrolled in a postsecondary institution. Moreover, of graduates who had FSA ELA/FCAT Reading Level 2 in their eighth grade year, 57% - 60% enrolled in a postsecondary institution (Table 10).
- For those District graduates who had an FSA ELA/FCAT Math Level 4 or 5 in their eighth grade year, 75% - 84% entered college. Graduates who had FSA ELA/FCAT Math Level 1 in their eighth grade year, 45% - 50% enrolled in a postsecondary institution. Moreover, graduates who had FSA ELA/FCAT Math Level 2 in their eighth grade year, 55% - 58% enrolled in a postsecondary institution (Table 11).
- The proportion of Level 1 students entering a postsecondary institution has declined across cohorts while enrollment has tended to remained stable for the students registering at higher performance levels.

Persistence: FY14 to FY18 Cohorts

- From FY14 to FY17, the persistence rate¹¹ for District graduates enrolled in college (83% - 86%) was higher than the National persistence rate (72% - 74%) (Table 12). While the FY18 District persistence rate has decreased to 82%, the National persistence rate is not yet available for comparison.

Table 12. First-Year persistence rate for the District high school graduates enrolled in postsecondary institutions

Cohort Year	District Enrolled Count	District Persistence Rate	National Persistence Rate	National 20 (age) and under* Persistence Rate
FY18	8,455	82%	NR	NR
FY17	8,078	84%	74%	77%
FY16	7,361	83%	74%	77%
FY15	7,262	85%	73%	78%
FY14	7,399	86%	72%	78%

* National Persistence Rate is from National Student Clearinghouse <https://nscresearchcenter.org/snapshotreport35-first-year-persistence-and-retention/>

Degree Completion

- Approximately two-thirds of students in the FY12 to FY14 cohorts have completed a college degree, and 52% of the FY15 cohort have done so. The total for those FY12 graduates who completed a degree in six years was slightly higher (67% for FY12, Table 13) than the National completion rate (66% for FY12).¹²
- The Bachelor's degree was the most common highest degree completed (42% - 45% for FY12 to FY14 cohorts). While 29% of FY15 cohort students have completed a Bachelor's degree, this percentage is expected to increase with time.

¹¹ Persistence rate is the percentage of students who return to college at any institution for their second year.

SCHOOL SUMMARY

The Appendix provides summaries of college enrollment, persistence rates and degree completion by SDPBC high school. Comparison to the District overall and National Benchmarks are included. Below is an overview of observations from the Appendix.

Enrollment

Tables 14 through 15 show postsecondary institution enrollment statistics in the fall for District operated high schools, and Tables 16 through 17 provide the enrollment statistics for charter high schools. A statistical Test of Independent Proportions (TIP) was conducted for each of the 24 District operated high schools and 10 charter schools to compare with the District average. The TIP results for FY19 revealed:

- Ten District operated high schools had significantly higher percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than the District average enrollment (Table 14), including A.W. Dreyfoos School of Arts, Boca Raton High, Jupiter High, Palm Beach Central High, Park Vista High, Spanish River High, Suncoast High, Wellington High, and West Boca Raton Community High. In addition, WT Dwyer High improved significantly in FY19 and performed better than the District average.
- One charter school (Somerset Canyons High) had significantly a higher percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than the District average enrollment (Table 16).
- Compared to the District average, 11 District operated high schools and one charter school had significantly higher percent of student enrollment in four-year postsecondary institutions (Table 15, Table 17).
- Three District operated high schools (Atlantic High, Palm Beach Center High, and Palm Beach Lakes High) had significantly higher percent of student enrollment in two-year postsecondary institutions (Table 14).

Tables 18 through 20 shows comparison of postsecondary institution enrollment with the national benchmarks.

- For FY18 graduates
 - Fourteen District operated high schools (Table 18) had significantly higher percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than the national average enrollment in the same category schools, while three high schools, including Forest Hill High, Lake Worth High and Palm Beach Lakes High, had significantly lower percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than the national same category schools.
 - Four District operated high schools (Table 19) had significantly higher percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than the national average enrollment in the same poverty category schools, including Atlantic High, Palm Beach Garden High, Santaluces High and Royal Palm Beach High.
 - One charter school (Somerset Canyons High) (Table 20) had significantly higher percent of enrollment in postsecondary institutions than national charter schools.

Persistence Rate

Table 21 shows persistence rate for District operated high schools' graduates enrolled in colleges, and Table 22 provides the persistence rate for District charter high schools. Findings reveal:

- Nine District operated high schools had significantly higher persistence rate in postsecondary institutions than the District average persistence rate (Table 21).
- No charter school had significantly higher percent of persistence rate in postsecondary institutions than the District average persistence rate (Table 22).

Tables 23 and 24 show comparison of persistence rate for District graduates enrolled in college with the national benchmarks.

- For FY16 graduates
 - One District operated high school, Pahokee Middle/Senior High (Table 23), had a significantly higher persistence rate than the national average persistence rate in the same category schools.
 - No charter schools (Table 24) had a significantly higher persistence rate than the national average persistence rate than national charter schools.

Degree Completion

Table 25 lists the number of District FY12 and FY13 (six-year cohort) graduates from District operated high school graduates enrolled in postsecondary institutions and the percent achieving highest degrees from postsecondary institutions while Table 26 lists the highest degree results for charter schools.

Tables 27 through 29 shows comparison of highest degree completion for District graduates with the national benchmarks.

- For FY12 graduates
 - Thirteen District operated high schools (Table 27) had a significantly higher six-year degree completion rate, than the national average six-year degree completion rate in the same category schools.
 - Nine District operated high schools (Table 28) had a significantly higher six-year degree completion rate in postsecondary institutions than the national average benchmark in the same poverty category schools.
 - No charter school (Table 29) had significantly higher and one had significantly lower six-year degree completion rate than national charter schools

In summary, the District graduates enrolled in a postsecondary institution in the fall after graduation is the same as FY18. It is one of the lowest enrollment years in last five years. The gap between White and Black in FY19 is larger than in FY18, while the gap between White and Hispanic for FY19 is similar to FY18. Even Grade 8 FSA level 5 students more likely enrolled in college, the level 1 and 2 students still had chance to enroll in college after they high school graduated. Palm Beach State College has been the most common college choice for District graduates in last five years.

From FY14 to FY18, the persistence rate for District graduates enrolled in college was higher than the National persistence rate. FY12 graduates who completed a degree in six years was slightly higher than the National completion rate.

NEXT STEPS

Overall, the postsecondary enrollment data have been largely stable across cohorts. However, as noted above, there are differences in enrollment and persistence rates related to the high school that students attended. With this in mind and the information provided in the summary and Appendices, staff are urges to reflect on the following questions:

1. How does college enrollment compare to the prior year? The last five years? What trends do you see? How they compare to the National Benchmarks?
2. How does college persistent rate compare to the prior year? The last five years? What trends do you see? How they compare to the National Benchmarks?
3. How does college completion rate compare to the District overall and National Benchmarks?
4. How the college enrollment correspondent to the year of college readiness? Did all presumptive eligible students enroll the college?
5. What are we doing to monitor students beginning in the Grade 9 and tracking them to college enrollment?
6. How can we better support students so that they are prepared to enroll, persist, and succeed in a postsecondary environment?
